The third annual Survive and Thrive teen health fair will be held Feb. 28 at the Montgomery Civic Center from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The mission of Survive and Thrive 2004 is to provide teens with healthy, accurate information and education concerning the many decisions that they are facing today.

Teenagers from Autauga, Elmore, Lowndes, Montgomery and surrounding counties are invited to attend. Organizations in the area that work with teens will provide information and general tips for healthy living in teen friendly "hot topic" sessions.

Admission to the fair is free, and it will feature food, live music from local teenage bands, T-shirts, door prizes, live radio remotes and prizes. The Montgomery Area Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy, which is funded by the Alabama Department of Public Health in partnership with the Alabama Department of Human Resources, is sponsoring the event. Other sponsors include REAL (Realizing Everything About Life), Alabama State University, Alabama Power Company, The Kiwanis Club of Montgomery, Domino's Pizza and Y102.

For more information about the health fair call (334) 272-1820.
